

Preserving the Past

The Friends of the Boyne City Historical Museum wish to preserve our shared heritage for future generations by providing a place to remember days gone by. The museum is open to the public and special events, workshops and speakers will be announced regularly.

Read about the first permanent settlers in Boyne City, John and Harriet Miller, the father of Boyne City, George Beardsley, and other prominent families like the Morgans and the Whites (W.H. White Lumber Co.)

We have great collection of historical photos. Through the years the museum has acquired photos of the old logging camps, BCG&A Railroad, W.H. White Lumber Mills, and much more.
